

Adventures near home

If we are learning anything from the current lockdown, we are realising how many beautiful places there are to walk just near home! We never realised how many public footpaths, hidden parks and interesting streets there were to wander around so near to home.

So today's task is all about looking a little closer about what there is to do on our doorstep!

Whilst we may not currently be able to go out and take part in local activities, or properly visit local attractions, we thought it might be great to have a think about the places we could visit once life returns to some kind of normal...

So today we would like you to research 5 interesting things to do in your local area. Then, present what you have found in a creative way and explain why you think young people should visit them once it is safe to do so.

Hopefully this will give you some great new things to do once lockdown is over, and also allow you to help support your local community and businesses.

Here's a few ideas about places we have recently discovered near home in Stockport!

Transpennine Way	Hat Museum, Stockport	Reddish Vale Country Park

As always, make sure you share your work with us by posting online and tagging us in @pieuksocial.