

Project Management – Making Your Voice Heard

The important message in all of our tasks this week, is getting you to start to think about what you can do. Try and complete one of these following tasks to help make your voice heard:

- Write a poem or protest chant about anti-racism (you could even try recording it!)
- Write and perform a speech that support Black Lives Matter.
- Create a stop motion animation film to help put across key messages from the Black Lives Matter Campaign.
- Create a poster to share in your window about some of the things you have learnt this week
- Write a letter to your headteacher, local newspaper or MP about how you think we could try to ensure there is better equality in our own communities.
- Create a playlist of songs that promote equality and anti-racism
- Spend time learning about black culture, and create a PowerPoint celebrating what you have discovered.
- Create a series of social media posts that help to challenges racial inequality/ support the Black Lives Matter campaign.
