

Parlez Vous Anglais?

The world has somehow both got a lot smaller, and a lot bigger in the last few months.

All around the globe we are sharing in the same struggle, and all part in a shared fight to keep ourselves, and those we love safe.

In this in mind, we wanted to get you thinking today about how we communicate with people all over the world!

So...can you make a poster with a message of hope on it for speakers of a language other than English?

This might be a language you speak at home, one you learn at school, or one you fancy having a go at learning.

Google Translate is a great tool for translating sayings into other languages.

'Love will lead the way' could quickly become:

L'amour ouvrira la voie

爱将带路

O amor liderará o caminho

What positive and universal images can you put with your words to help communicate your message?

As always, make sure you share your work with us by posting online and tagging us in @pieuksocial. Try and include some kind of hint of information about which language you have used as well in your poster!
