

Cultural Capital - Documentary Time – Knowledge is Power

We love watching documentaries to help us to learn more about the world around us. This week we would like to suggest a selection of documentaries and talks focussed around issues of race and equality.

These are just a starting point for what is out there available for you to watch and learn from. What other examples can you find?

Unremembered: Britain's Forgotten War Heroes <https://www.channel4.com/programmes/unremembered-britains-forgotten-war-heroes>

Ghetto Britain: 30 Years of Race <https://www.channel4.com/programmes/ghetto-britain-30-years-of-race/on-demand/41820-001>

Stay Woke: The Black Lives Matter Movement Documentary <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eloYtKOqxeU>

Our Borough: Love and Hustle <https://www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer/episodes/p07g3y52/our-borough-love-hustle>

Black Lives: Struggle. Still dreaming of racial justice in St Louis' black neighbourhoods <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=F49V8biFZic>

James Corden: It's time to change in the US <https://youtu.be/qUZizYwmEDE>

Ted X: Let's get to the root of social injustice <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-aCn72iXO9s>

Questions:

What three things have you learnt from the documentary?

What was the most powerful moment of the documentary?

What has this documentary made you want to know more about?

Other films to try and watch:

The Help

Hidden Figures

Cry Freedom
